Rules and regulations

Opening hours The Bank of Finland Library (Library) is open subject to agreement Monday through Thursday from 12:00 to 3:30 pm. The Library is closed in July, on Maundy Thursday, New Year's Eve and on public holidays, including days between public holidays as separately announced on the Library's website.

Right to borrow The right to borrow is given to a person (Customer) to whom the Bank of Finland has granted authorisation to use the Library. The right to use the Library is personal. Upon arrival to the Library, the Customer must prove his/her identity.

Borrowed material

The material in the Library collections is lent mainly to personnel of the Bank of Finland and the Financial supervisory Authority. Customers have the right to borrow most of the printed material but not eg language course material, reference books, statistics, new acquisitions, maps, journals and magazines, books valued at over EUR 300 and certain old material specified by the Library.

Loan period

The loan period is 2 weeks. A loan can be renewed twice. The material must be returned to the Library during opening hours, or to the box of returned books in the lobby just inside the staff door at Rauhankatu 19.

Customers must return the material by the due date. If a customer does not return the material he/she gets a reminder. If the Customer does not return the material within a week after having received three reminders, or if the Customer damages or loses borrowed material, the Customer forfeits his or her right to use the Library. The Customer is liable to compensate for any non-returned material in accordance with the list of charges (Appendix 2). The Library uses an outside collection agency in collecting the fees, when necessary.

Borrowing and copying charges

Copying of the material as self service is permitted. Copying charges must be paid in cash at the Library. Scanning of the material is not possible but you may use your own camera to take photographs of publications.

Borrowing and copying charges are based on the valid list of charges (Appendix 2).

Validity of rules and regulations

These rules and regulations are valid until further notice. The Library has the right to amend the rules and regulations at any time.
