Suomen Pankin tiedonkeruupalvelun uudistus 2024

Dear reporting contact person,

Work on the project related to the reform of the reporting system is moving ahead, and the next batch of survey-specific specifications have been finalised.

SIRA reporting: xml schema

MURA reporting: xml schema

RATI reporting: validation checks \(FI\)

In addition, new instructions and updates to previously released documents have been published on the website. All specifications, instructions and a more detailed list of the changes have been collated on the website focusing on the reform of the reporting system: Instructions and recordings concerning the reporting system. Work on the finalisation of missing language versions continues. Please note that, as the project proceeds, there may still be minor revisions made to specifications and instructions that have already been published.

Conversion of files

In addition to the code of the previously provided converter tool (Bof.Stat.DCS.Converter), an executable version (.EXE) is now also available to reporters. The converter can be downloaded from the Bank of Finland's Github, and instructions on downloading and using the converter have been published on the website. Please note that the adoption of the software may be restricted by your company's own data security rules, such as restrictions on the execution or installation of externally produced software on the company's devices. The software requires a .NET version 6.0 to run. At present, the converter can be used on SAVE, KOTI, MAPE, RATI, PEF, SIRA, MURA and TIHA reports.

Validation service – reporters' test environment

The report validation service is now open for SAVE, MAPEQ, KOTI and KOIA reports. We recommend that reporters test submission of the reports in the validation service well ahead of the actual reporting start date in the new reporting system.

The validation service of the new reporting service can be found at: Report validation service

Known deficiencies of the validation service are listed on our website at: Reporter portal - known issues

The opening of the validation service and later the reporter portal will be communicated as new data collections are added to the environments.
